Toms River, NJ: Local educator, Angela Germano, teamed up with Emmy® nominated director, Dr. Angela Sadler Williamson, to launch "Authentic Conversations: Deep Talk with the Masters," a documentary series on how to pick-up the pieces and get our lives back on track to personal wealth and success, featuring the creators of the New York Times Best-Selling Book Series, "Chicken Soup for the Soul."

"I was honored that this award winning California director asked me to help produce and launch this project. My mission is to inspire courage and skill to speak up. I am all about being real, asking questions to learn and digging deep to truly empathize and grow. I am so grateful to bring this film to our area. So many are still feeling the loss of 911, devastation from Sandy and the ongoing turmoil from the global pandemic. Our community will appreciate the support and insight of Authentic Conversations," Angela Germano shares. The documentary is currently on PBS' national website and app. Film festivals, live screenings, and online streaming are next.

"Authentic Conversations: Deep Talk with the Masters" follows three of the nation's top motivational speakers. Co-creators of "Chicken Soup for the Soul" Jack Canfield and Patty Aubery, along with International Best-Selling Author and Book Publisher of the "Inspired Impact" series Kate Butler, tell their stories about pivotal moments that led to unprecedented success. These authentic conversations walk us through their personal journey of loss and triumph to the life they are living today. In one meaningful hour, viewers experience authentic conversations to empower us to take action.

Director, Dr. Williamson's mission is to produce documentaries that inspire change and give people hope. She loves sharing "unknown stories" about people we think we know. "When I produced my first documentary about my cousin, Rosa Parks, I wanted the world to learn about a person who wasn't taught to us in our history books," says Dr. Williamson. Dr. Angela Sadler Williamson, 73rd Los Angeles Area Emmy® Awards Nominee for her documentary, "My Life With Rosie." Dr. Williamson is a former producer/writer at FOX, and now hosts "Everybody with Angela Williamson" on KLCS PBS.
