COMPASS ACADEMY: DRUGS 101 PARENT FORUM

An educational and interactive hour on Ocean County substance use trends among students, prevention programs, and What to Look For

WHEN: Wednesday, May 1, 2024
from 6:30 - 8:00 pm

WHERE: Toms River North High School

Join NJ4S COMPASS and the Ocean County Health Department, at an interactive parent/caregiver presentation titled: What to Look For. This educational workshop will equip adults with practical and useful information on navigating drug trends among youth in Ocean County. This event is free to attend and open to Ocean County adults only.

OCHD staff will be providing a Drugs 101 presentation focusing on alcohol, vaping, and marijuana use among students. They will also be training and providing families with Narcan. NJ4S COMPASS Ocean County will provide a brief overview on prevention and mental health services and TAO Connect. Retired police officers will be providing a presentation entitled What to Look For. A brief Q&A will follow the presentations and families will have the opportunity to visit resource tables to get additional information.
